Joel Landon, VP of Partner Relations, joined the eQRP team in Oct 2021. Previously, he spent 14 years in the banking industry servicing high-net-worth clients. Joel is passionate about developing strategies to help people achieve their financial goals. After finding a better way to help both clients and businesses optimize their financial future through his connections at eQRP, he left his career to join the mission of breaking one million financial shackles! Joel's purpose at the eQRP is to help its members achieve their ultimate retirement goals. Joel's all about getting in front of others interested in learning how to take control of their financial freedom. He knows eQRP has the tools and resources to make this possible. Through his engagement, you will learn about this and how to achieve financial freedom through eQRP's four pillars: Control, Support, Education, and Community.
